Tire Squealing

Village Trustee Gary Chase, head of the Mokena police committee, recommends adoption of an ordinance banning tire squealing.

He had a copy of such an ordinance enacted by Crest Hill which he turned over to Village Attorney Ronald Galowich who is to draft a similar measure for the Mokena board to consider.

When Case brought up the possibility of prohibiting or at least restricting magazine salesmen from out of state, Galowich said nothing could be done in this regard as such salesmen were involved in interstate commerce.

A reception followed at St. Francis Woods, the motherhouse of the Franciscan Sisters of the Sacred Heart, east of Mokena.

Saxton Low Bidder On Extending Sewer Line

Blaine Saxton, Mokena sewer contractor, was the apparent low bidder on a sewer extension on Wolf road which would extend south of the new Park and Shop store now under construction.

Three bids were opened at the regular meeting of the Mokena village board last week and referred to Village Engineer Ralph Yunker for tabulation and report.

The contract was to have been let at a special meeting of the board last night (Wednesday).

Saxton's bid was $5,044. Ervin D. Friant, also of Mokena, was second low with a figure of $5,531.45. The high bid was that of the Hulett

Corp., of Oak Forest, $6,542.35.

Trustee Marin Weitendorf recommended that the village replace the frost casing for the water storage tank. The present casing is in bad condition, he said, and if it should break it could cause a shutdown of the water supply for the village that might last a week. He was instructed to ascertain if any money was available in the bond accounts in Chicago that could be used for such purpose.

Weitendorf also is to get an estimate on the cost of preventing the freezing of the water line serving the home of Mrs. Mabel Stellwagen on Second st. Mrs. Stellwagen complained that since the village graded the street about two years ago her water line has been freezing in the winter.

Weitendorf reported that while he had received no criticism from the people living along Front st. west of Wolf rd. concerning the "water ball" installed there for hose handling practice but that the water pressure goes down when firemen are using the water there. The water also becomes stirred and unusable for a period.

He is to arrange for the appearance before the board of a Naperville man — the name does not appear in the village records — who will discuss the water supply potential for Mokena. A recent survey of the water situation in the DesPlaines valley showed that the supply is dwindling in the area. According to Trustee Weitendorf this Naperville man is of the opinion that Mokena shouldn't be too concerned about the dropping of the water table in the area.

On a motion by Trustee Hans Mueller no permits are to be issued to Robert Freidin on his multiple housing program along Wolf road near First st. until it is determined whether the subdivision ordinance applies regardless of whether a subdivision plat is made.

Dangerous Intersection

Another fatality has occurred at the intersection of Wolf road and the Southwest highway, as U.S. 6 is known in this area, pointing out again the necessity for better protection at this dangerous highway junction.

There have been several persons killed at this intersection and unless something is done to correct the situation one can expect the death toll will continue to mount.

There should be lights there or a three-way stop set up thru proper signs and warnings. It is argued by some safety people that multiple stops are better than lights in open or uncongested areas because motorists will halt for the signs whereas when lights are employed too many drivers try to beat the red one. When two drivers decide to take advantage of the amber light there can be but one result—a crash.

At the junction of Wolf and U.S. 6 there is but one stop sign, located to halt traffic coming from the south (Joliet) and joining traffic going north. Traffic coming from the north divides at this point, some swinging off to follow U.S. 6 toward Joliet, and some continuing south to Mokena or U.S. 30.

When a northbound car fails to obey the stop sign posted on U.S. 6 disaster can result. There have been several fatalities at the junction because of that and there have been a host of near-misses. Scarcely a day passes but a collision is averted at this point by motorist veering off the highway in time. Local drivers have come to be suspicious of all northbound cars and take precautions when approaching the intersection but strangers don't realize the danger.

Persons approaching the intersection from the north should be required to stop, and persons approaching from the south on Wolf road should be required to stop, and, of course, the stop should be retained on cars going north on U.S. 6.

I couldn't cost the state highway department but a few dollars to install these signs. We suppose, however, that before the state would act it would have to have a report from a safety or traffic engineer of some kind to say that stop signs were warranted.

We will be frank. We do not know how many people have to be killed, and how many injured to have an intersection regarded as sufficiently dangerous to warrant traffic lights or multiple stop signs.

At this particular intersection there have been three lives taken in the past 15 months and quite a number of persons seriously injured.

In the accident there last week one woman was killed outright. Another woman and a five-month old baby suffered skull fractures. It is to be hoped that they did not suffer brain damage that will effect their future lives.

We believe that Orland township authorities and Cook and Will county authorities should recommend that the state take action to give better protection to motorists at this particular intersection.

We believe a three-way stop sign could help a lot in making the intersection safer. We would also advocate that persons who ignore stop signs be penalized severely. They are dangerous drivers.

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

We have had another shock to investment markets by events in Vietnam. Imagination and speculation as to what could happen in Vietnam and that general area by our prompt retaliation for warlike acts against our ships and planes.

The quiet firm manner in which this government announced and executed the retaliatory defense action, seems to have impressed the world and financial markets will probably settle down. World comments, except for the Communist sources, has been strongly approving of the prompt action.

Investors generally are disturbed more by the unknown than the known. As in this case, after the attack by the Vietnam on our ships and their destruction by return fire, there was considerable selling of securities and, as usual, copper, sugar and grains were accumulated on opening of markets. Friday markets were adjusting to the apparent calm as to foreign affairs or at least no strange trouble spots.

All this does is again prove our defense budgets are made in Moscow and other trouble spots. Reducing defense spending is dependent to a considerable extent on actions of our enemies or at least those countries which have been giving us difficulties.

Our foreign news is often not understood because we hear of events in such countries as France and in consideration of such events, we fail to remember that France's governmental situation is very different from our own.

Some of our citizens should think of the government controls over many phases of life in France as against our comparatively mild government control over our lives, before making decisions.

In France, the government owns banks with about half of all French bank deposits, controls insurance companies with 40 per cent of all premiums, it owns all coal mines, the airlines, TV and radio stations, the railroads, public utilities, the Renault Auto Works, and 60 per cent of all French plane and motor manufacturing.

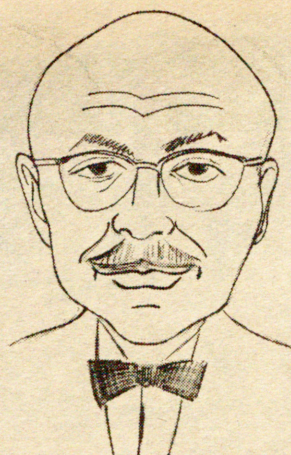

De Gaulle, thru control of the French government and firmly, can move about in foreign affairs without extensive revealing what his ultimate will be. De Gaulle is intent on having the nuclear build-up of a major power and has tried to convince West Germany that they should join France in this effort. West Germany is not having any of the French plans.

The situation in the world does not indicate an early end to world turmoil.

Our free enterprise system of economics has been quite successful in adjusting to these world changes.

Those hoping for a quiet and uneventful life, seemed doomed to disappointment.

Most business comment is optimistic for the future. Reports of new plant construction beyond replacement, is seen in Department of Commerce reports. Construction and equipment spending is showing the best rise since 1956-57.

"TAKE CORN out of the country," demanded Jefferson P. Throttlebottom of his fellow patrons of Kelly's Tap, "and what would we have?"

"No comedians," said McGinnis.

"More prefabs," replied O'Leary, who worked for a builder who in turn was under contract to a developer specializing in treeless subdivisions.

"No bourbon," intoned Harrison, sometimes called The Dismal.

This last remark brought a shocked silence, followed by mutterings and head shaking.

"That is a gruesome thought," said Throttlebottom, who has made a name of sorts for himself as judge of bourbon whiskey, "and while I would have hesitated to put it into words myself, it is a part of what I had in mind."

"Without corn this would be a sorry country. Indeed it would be a sorry world. The midwest is built on corn and the rest of the country is built on the midwest."

JEFF WARMED to his subject:

"Corn was a staple crop with the Indians before the colonists arrived in North America. According to documents left by the early settlers the Indians gave them seed corn and showed them how to plant it. Corn helped to save the colonists from starving and corn preserved life for the pioneers. The Indians, one might say, were repaid handsomely for their gift by being hunted from pillar to post, their lands seized, and finally being penned up on reservations, most of which are in regions where corn doesn't fare too well."

"Thanks to natural forces, including the glaciers, a fine, black, rich soil was formed in the midwest that is highly suitable to corn. That is why the midwest is the corn capital of the world and that is one of the prime reasons the midwest is one of the wealthiest areas any place. We have a lot of industry there now but most of it grew out of corn."

Jeff paused to sip from the corn product before him and resumed his lecture.

"I know that a lot of people think of corn only as something to eat or drink but it has many uses besides providing mankind with cornbread, muffins, hominy, mush and breakfast cereals or building up cattle and hogs into prime meat."

"FOR INSTANCE corn is used in the making of charcoal briquettes, I am told, altho I can't tell you much about that. If that is the case it is a handy bit of information to have. Suppose one goes on what is called a cook-out and discovers he is without means of lighting a fire -- no matches, no lighter, no neighbors, no passersby, and lacking the kind of sticks one can rub together to start a blaze. He doesn't need to starve - if he can't ignite the charcoal briquettes he can eat them. I suppose with a little milk and sugar they would be alright. They should be just as palatable as cornflakes anyway. And I'm sure that anyone who has eaten parched corn would find the briquettes easier to chew."

"I have also read," Jeff went on, "that corn starch and dextrin are used as filler and binder in the manufacture of fireworks. So now if you hear someone say that so - and - so has a bang-up corn crop you will know that he is talking about."

"Even the cobs are utilized. They make good pipes -- and the pith is ground up and used in cosmetics and for dusting powder."

"Corn starch, dextrose, oil, and corn syrup are ingredients in hundreds of food products. There's corn in those pretzels McGinnis is eating, and there is corn in jelly, candy, ice cream, marshmallows, frankfurters, margarine, a whole raft of bakery products and softdrinks too, believe it or not, altho that seems an awful waste to me."

"In some form corn is to be found in sports clothes, portable radio batteries, road maps and even in automobile engines, which shouldn't surprise a lot of motorists."

"THERE ARE a lot of chemists who make a lot of money figuring out new ways to use corn or improve the uses already discovered."

"Soda straws, plates and other paper tableware all need corn starch as a stiffener. And speaking of corn as a stiffener one naturally comes to that process known as distilling. Now the Scots use barley and malt, and I believe the Irish do too, in distilling their whiskeys; and in this country a certain amount of rye is utilized. Rye is quite popular, I am told, in some remote areas."

"But in my humble opinion bourbon, made from corn that is just right, tops them all, and I can prove it to your satisfaction if Hercules O'Meara there, who is always telling one and all how strong he is, has strength enough to buy a round."

"... Ah, thank you, O'Meara. Here's to the corn-belt of the midwest, may it never lack a belt for us."

My Neighbors

"We'd like you to recommend the shortest route possible for our 5-mile hike."

Zinn-Tranchita Nuptial Vows Are Said In The Orland Park Methodist Church

Sunday, July 10 at 3 o'clock in the Methodist church in Orland Park, Joyce Ann Zinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Zinn of Elm st., and Thomas Joseph Tranchita, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Tranchita of Worth were united in marriage. Rev. Leon Leatherman performed the double ring ceremony. The bride looked lovely entering the church on the arm of her father.

The bride's dress was nylon lace with satin overskirt, which she had made. Her veil was of three layers French silk illusion and head piece of stiff netting and satin loops with a pearl in the center one. She carried a bouquet of green and white roses.

Comie White of Peoria was her bridesmaid. She wore a blue taffeta dress and matching veil and carried a bouquet of royal blue, light blue and white roses. John Prisco served the groom as best man. The ushers were Ronald and Gerald Zinn and Charles Tranchita.

The bride's mother wore a lilac sheath dress with an overskirt, pink hat. The groom's mother wore a monoco bronze A-line dress. Their corsages were yellow orchids with a tinge of red.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church dining hall.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon in Peoria, visiting close relatives, and also a trip to Cave City, Kentucky, touring the Mammoth caves. They are now residing in Orland Park. Joyce is a graduate of Carl Sandburg high school. Thomas attended Carl Sandburg high school four years

Sharon Kay Cappel And David Stuckey Say Vows

Miss Sharon Kay Cappel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cappel of Mokena, became the bride of David P. Stuckey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stuckey of Effingham, at a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. T. C. Wimmeler at 4 o'clock Saturday, June 6, in St. John's United church of Christ.

Mrs. Dorothy Lankaneau, organist, played wedding selections and also accompanied Kathy Krusemark, cousin of the bride, and Denny Cappel, brother of the bride, who sang "Because" and "Wedding Prayer".

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a floor length dress of billowing sheer organza with re-embroidered chantilly lace panels flowing from waist and back. The scalloped neckline of chantilly lace was adorned with tiny seed pearls, and the lace bodice continued to near waist. Her headpiece was in matching hue with the gown. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanitis.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Gayle Harling, and her bridesmaids were Mrs. Carol Holt and Miss Judy Brown. They wore street-length light blue sheer nylon sheath dresses with a nylon overshirt and matching headpieces. Miss Nancy Krusemark, cousin of the bride, served as junior bridesmaid, and Miss Lori Sievert served as flower-girl. Their dresses were similar to the bridesmaids. They each carried a semi-crescent of pink gladioli.

Dick Dammernan was best man, and groomsmen were Curt Turner and Steve Allison with Randy Workman as ringbearer. Usher duties were carried out by Denny Cappel, Don Stuckey and Dennis Stuckey.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at Valley View Farm. Paula Muehler was at the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cappel chose a pink sheath with a matching lace jacket and matching accessories. Mrs. Stuckey chose a blue lace dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of white cymbidum orchids.

After a honeymoon trip to the Wisconsin Dells, the newlyweds are residing at Charleston, Ill. Mr. Stuckey is employed by A. E. Staley Mfg. Co. at Decatur as an internal auditor, and the new Mrs. Stuckey will teach girls physical education in the high school at Warrensburg in the fall.

Adoption of five patterns of high school subjects to be required for the admission of beginning freshmen, establishing a minimum pre-transfer grade - point average for transfer students of 3.25 rather than 3.0 (3.0 equals C), and increasing the requirements for admission of nonresident undergraduate students were approved as recommended by the All-University Committee on Admissions following several years of study.

Dean C. W. Arbury Hills

Dragoon Dads To Fill Line Up For Ballgame

MRS. EDWARD HOVI
Telephone: 479-5740

The wind-up of the Arbury Hills Boys Baseball League season was held on Saturday, Aug. 1. Even tho it was perfect baseball weather, the turnout for the festivities was disappointingly small.

After a little scrounging expedition there were finally enough men present for the father-son baseball game. It seemed as tho the young will out; the game ended after five innings with the sons emerging victorious by the score of nine to seven.

During the game the younger boys who had participated in the baseball program, were given their treat, hot dogs, potato chips, candy and soda pop. Because of the number of boys who had come out for the day, there was enough for all to have "seconds".

The older boys and the fathers had their refreshments following the game, with the soda pop being in the greatest demand. Some of the fathers were somehow reminded that they were no longer fifteen.

After all had eaten, the award ceremony commenced. The Blue Rockets were the recipients of the first place trophy. Their proud coach - manager Tom Blank accepted the big trophy in the name of the team, while each of the boys on the team was presented with a smaller trophy.

In addition to the team trophy, there were two trophies awarded for the first and second place of the most valuable player award and two more trophies for the first and second place of the most improved player award. These awards were voted upon by all the managers and coaches of all the teams. These awards, while not presented at the closing of the last year's season, will now become an annual award.

Ron Mulicchio was given the first place award as the most valuable player award, while Blake Tekotte was given the second place award in the same category.

Joe Arcuri was given the first place award for most improved player of the year, and Ken Lillie was given the second place award for the same category.

The appreciation of everyone in Arbury Hills should be given to all the men and women who worked long hard hours in the interests of our boys. As usual their names are few, but their lack of numbers was made up by their interest in all the boys of the community, not just their own boys.

The First Nighters held their August meeting at the home of Mrs. Rose Menzer last Thursday evening after a one month lay-off of festivities.

The winner of the hostesses prize was Mrs. Byron Skinner, and the next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Betty Fife of 9431 West Birch Avenue on Thursday evening, September 3, at 8 p.m.

The meeting of the Byng club to be held at the home of Mrs. Mary Farnham August 11, has been cancelled. The Byng Club will meet at Mrs. Farnham's home on Tuesday evening, September 8, at 8 p.m.

The Arbury Hills Kindergarten Organization will hold their regular monthly meeting at the school on Tuesday evening, August 18, beginning at 8:30 p.m.

At the recent County 4-H Show, held at the Francis Field in New Lenox, the name of Patty Kronick, 4-H member from the Arbury Achievers 4-H Club, was inadvertently omitted from the list of award winners. Patty was given a blue ribbon award in the sewing category for making her skirt and scarf. Congratulations, Patty, and sorry your name was missed the first time.

Want Ad Traps Killer of 44 Years

A 77-year-old retired packing plant worker was arrested in Fresno on a charge of killing his wife in Pittsburg, 44 years ago. Nick Kasanovich had been sought since the slaying January 24, 1915. Ted Botula, chief homicide detective said Kasanovich's arrest resulted from a Want Ad that he placed in a national Serbian newspaper in an attempt to locate some relatives. An assistant Allegheny County District Attorney, remembered the name and the unsolved slaying and notified Fresno police.

Utility Firm Building Super "Voltage-Ways"

A massive system of electrical superhighways carrying bulk power at 345,000 volts to and from the Chicago metropolitan area will be completed during the next four years by Commonwealth Edison Company, J. Harris Ward, chairman and president of the utility, announced today.

In addition to moving power from Edison generating plants to its distribution centers, the extra-high-voltage (EHV) transmission lines, through a number of interconnections with other utilities, will serve as major trunk lines in an extensive interstate electrical grid.

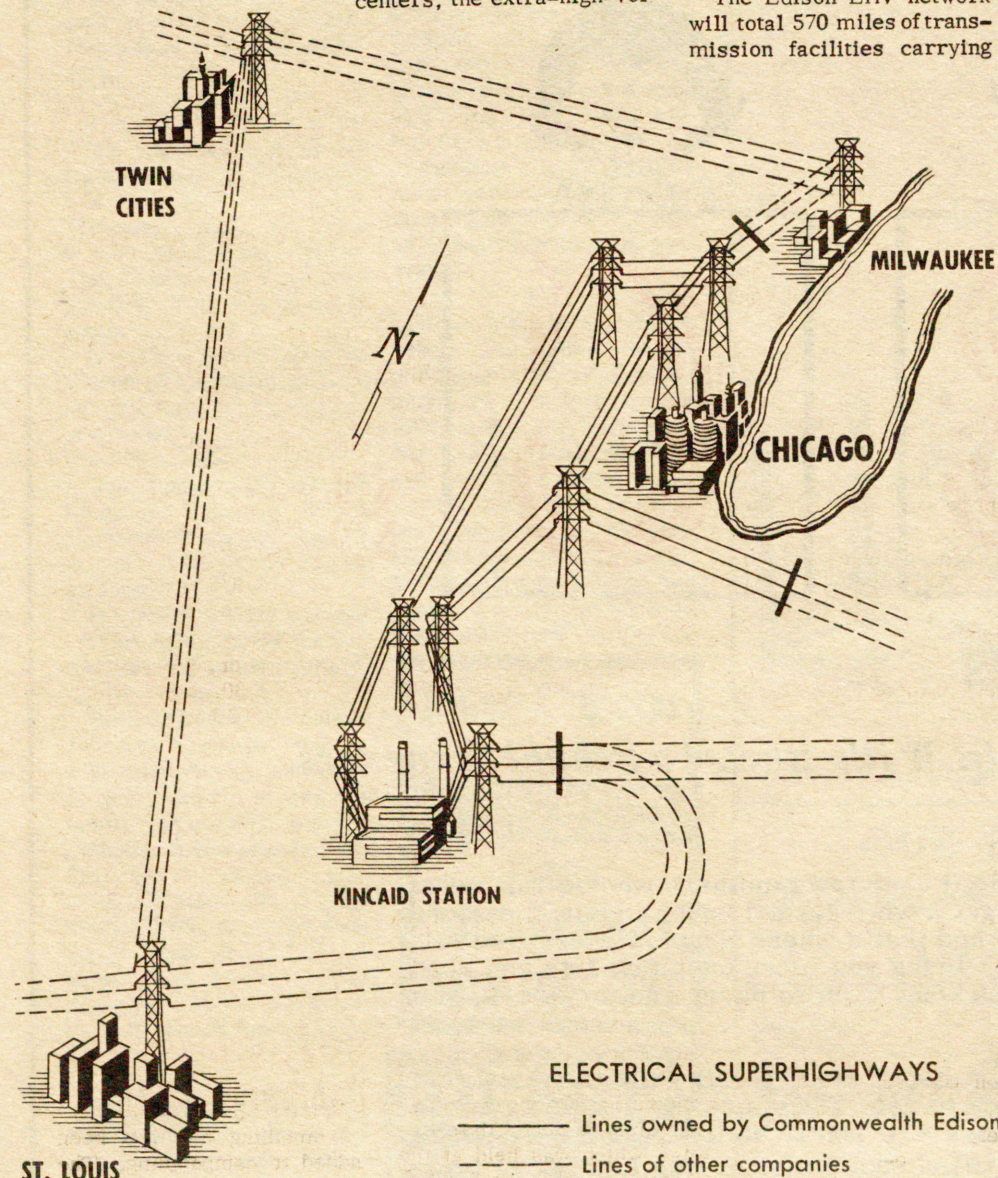

The Edison EHV network will total 570 miles of transmission facilities carrying 710 circuit miles of line. Including 86 circuit miles already in operation, the cost will exceed $90,000,000.

The network will have as its hub a belt around the Chicago area load center with ties at the 345,000-volt level to other utilities in Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Minnesota. In turn, these neighboring utilities will be interconnected with more distant power systems.

"These electrical superhighways," said Mr. Ward, "will overlay our present 138,000-volt network and interconnections, which will then be used primarily as a sub-transmission system."

"The primary function of our EHV system will be to move big blocks of power from these new units to our distribution centers and to - from neighboring utilities either in planned exchanges of power or during emergencies."

"It is significant that the combined capacity of the four new units is about equivalent to the 2,300,000 - kilowatt capacity of our entire generating system only 20 years ago. When the new facilities are all in service, our system will be nearly four times as large as at the end of World War II."

"The longest segment of our new EHV transmission network will be two 175-mile lines to carry power to the Chicago area from the Kincaid mine-mouth station now under construction in central Illinois, 15 miles southeast of Springfield."

Mr. Ward said that as the demand for power increases it is economic to build larger generating units and transmit at higher voltages.

"Commonwealth Edison now has under construction four huge generating units, one to be completed in each year from 1965 through 1968," said Mr. Ward. "Two of these will be at Kincaid and two at our Joliet station."

Property owners of Lincoln Estates met in Ann Rutledge school Tuesday evening, Aug. 4, to discuss the road construction on South 80th Avenue which was recently approved by Township officials.

The purpose of the meeting was to find out why plans for the construction had not been more widely discussed prior to approval and letting of contracts.

The majority of the residents felt that, since South 80th is a dead-end road, less than five eighths of a mile long, all the property owners on the street should have been informed, in detail, of the project before it was approved and started.

The elected representatives of the people, who were present and answered questions, were George Tate, Township Supervisor, and Walter Yunker, Highway Commissioner.

The meeting successfully attracted the interest and the attendance of most of the residents of the area and an overflow crowd participated in the discussion.

Ads Sell More Cars

Chicagoland Ford dealers sold more new cars last month than in any July in the past five years. Sales totaled 5,117, 19 per cent higher than the 4,300 in the corresponding period a year ago.

These substantial sales gains are attributed primarily to two factors: The introduction of the Mustang and Big Change advertising and sales promotion program.

The Big Change program, is the most extensive advertising campaign ever staged by an auto manufacturer in a single market.

Action, Speed And New Records At Midget Races

The midget auto racing program at Joliet Memorial Stadium provided the fans with action and speed which resulted in two new track records.

Aaron Willis, owner-driver of Chevy powered #5 speedster won the semi-feature with a record time of 4:22:01. In the first heat, Gerry Matter of Naperville, tallied an 8-lap record of 2:13:70. The large field enabled the U.A.R.A. to present an unprecedented field of 15 cars in a third feature event.

In the main event Gerry Matter broke fast to establish a long lead, but the high speed took its toll, as his engine blew up on the 11th lap. Thereafter, the field mixed wheels in a wild scramble with Ron Erfurth, Madison, Wis. dominating, followed by Ray Elliott, Lockport and Tod Barton, Madison.

Gary Bettenhausen made his initial appearance in a borrowed car and thereby established his rookie status. He will be required to compete in three more semi-feature events to become eligible for full driver rating.

RESULTS

Feature: Ron Erfurth, Madison, Wis., Ray Elliott,

Lockport, Tod Barton, Madison, Wis. Semi: Aaron Willis, Joliet, Geo. McBeath Jr., Villa Park, Gary Congdon, Garden Grove, Calif. Trophy: John Lode, Chicago. Heat Winners: 1st. Joliet Pre Grid Team To Play Indianapolis Next

The Joliet Explorers professional football club begins preparations for its second pre-season game with the Indianapolis Warriors this Saturday afternoon in the Indiana city hoping to atone for its 35-19 defeat last Sunday at Joliet Memorial Stadium.

Coach Joseph Petruzzl and his staff felt that the two squads were pretty evenly matched in spite of the Blazers' two touchdown edge.

Imperfections in the Joliet pass defense were responsible for all of the Grand Rapids scores, altho quarterback Ed Chlebek was sharply on target with most of his heaves.

Chlebek tossed for 276

Distaff Golf

BY BIRDIE MCDIVOT

Good scores this week—Helen Churchill with a net 36 and Vera Richardson with a 39 net won the golf balls. Next week winners will be 3rd and 4th place.

Helen Churchill was also the winner of the match games for July. Congratulations, Helen! Your trophy will be awarded at our party at the end of the season. We will be starting another match game for August. Come on, girls, and get eligible for playing these games. It's lots of fun.

Another phase of this crazy game of golf about which some of us are finding amusing and sociable — What player has discovered, the hard way, that she cannot play alone; especially if she lands too many times in the water hole and runs out of balls, that you cannot try to get them out without your partner to hang onto for you end up in the water. hole yourself. Sort of muddy isn't it, Chuck? Another thing: Don't lose your sweater, like one ardent golfer. You may not have a Sir Galahad in a golfmobile ready to run all over the course looking for it.

See you next week?

Sunday School Workshops

More than 100,000 Methodist children in the Sunday church schools of the Rock River Conference will begin using the first completely new curriculum in 25 years on Sept. 2.

To prepare for this, 10,000 Sunday school teachers will shortly begin training in the use of the new curriculum. Workshops for this have been set up in 25 conference churches so that pastors, church school officers, teachers, and others will be introduced to the new curriculum.

The new curriculum is designed to recognize the advanced intelligence level of children and the need for dealing with broad theological themes at an early age. Included in the changed materials are special books for parents, record albums, and filmstrips. The lessons foster thinking, study, and exploration, and appeal to the child's interest. Parents are included in the planning for the first time.

MISS PHYLLIS SHAUGHNESSY

Aldridge Buys Golf Club At 143rd, Parker

Frank Aldridge, co-owner and operator of the popular Old Orchard Country Club near Mount Prospect, has broadened his scope of operations by purchasing an 18-hole 160-acre golf course in the southwest suburbs, it was announced today.

Aldridge's new venture, which has been renamed Old Oak Country Club, was acquired for an undisclosed consideration from Pullman Bank & Trust Company, trustee.

The property, the former El Dorado Country Club, extends along 143rd street at Parker Road five miles west of Orland Park.

Plans are under way for extensive additions to the course and club facilities, said Aldridge. Work will start immediately on the first phase of the program, including ground refinements, creation of new tees, addition of traps and the like. New equipment, including carts, already is available, as are cocktail and snack bars.

"The topography offers a nicely balanced blend of open fairways and wooded areas," Aldridge pointed out.

"Improvements will be made without interrupting operation of this club, which was officially opened this week as a semi-private course. There is an ever-increasing demand for semi-private facilities in this general area and our operations are being geared to a 7-day-a-week schedule to satisfy this demand."

There is open time for a limited number of leagues, preferably for ladies groups in the morning and men in the afternoon.

The following schedule of fees has been set up: Week-ends and holidays - $4 until twilight; twilight golf, $2.50; weekdays - $3 until twilight; twilight golf, $2; 9 holes,

The club is designed to serve an area extending from Hinsdale-Clarendon Hills on the north to Park Forest on the south, and from Midlothian on the east to Joliet on the west.

In addition to his association with Old Orchard Country Club, serving the northwest suburbs, Aldridge has been a prominent home builder in the Chicago area for many years. At the moment he also is engaged in planning a unique $35,000,000 residential-recreation center on the perimeter of Old Orchard Country Club.

Aldridge was one of the developers of Orland Park Hills housing projects.

Seek Funds To Bring Indonesian Girl Here

T. Rukjatini lives in Indonesia, Asia. She is 18 years old and one of 12 children. She has studied english in high school and would like very much to attend Lincoln-Way high school this fall if funds can be obtained. There is no Lions Club in Indonesia to help her come to this country. She would have to depend entirely on contributions for her round trip plane fare, which would cost approximately $1,200.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bean, Rt. 1, Mokena, would be her sponsor for the coming year. The Bean family became acquainted with Miss Rukjatini thru the Art Linkletter TV program approximately four years ago - thru requests from Asia for American magazines. A man from California put an ad in an Asian paper asking for people who were interested in American magazines to write to him (He was concerned, because 90% of mag-

Names Registrars For Voters Registration

Residents of the area who are not registered voters have until Oct. 6 to remedy the situation, it was pointed out this week by Will County Clerk Clara Hartley Woodard.

However, Mrs. Woodard urges these potential voters not to wait until the last week but to register now. She has appointed deputy registrars thruout the county to make registration easy for the public.

There are four registrars in Frankfort township: Harold J. Cooper, the town clerk, at the Cooper-Hostert Garage, Front st., Mokena; Burnett W. Schram at his barber shop on Ash st., Frankfort; Edna T. Wiegell, 220 Hickory st., Frankfort, and Pauline Larson, 228 Maple st., Frankfort.

Two registrars will serve New Lenox township, Roy A. Minger, town clerk, 112 Ash st., and Edith J. Sayers, office, 204 N. Cedar, and residence, 120 Elm st., New Lenox.

Clinton G. Mark, town clerk, will accept registrations in Green Garden township and Thomas J. Riley, Sr., 420 S. State st., Manhattan, will serve as registrar for Manhattan township.

Persons may also register at the county clerk's office in the courthouse at Joliet.

A person should register if a new resident of Will county, is 21 years of age or over, a citizen of the United States and has resided in the state one year, the county 90 days and the election district 30 days.

Also entitled to register is a person who meets the above qualifications, except age, if he will become 21 years old on or before election day Nov. 3, 1964; or a person whose name has been changed by marriage or otherwise.

A person who has moved from one address to another within Will county since registering must return the green voter's identification card, with the proper information filled out on the back. This is done by mailing the card to the county clerk's office.

In the event one has lost his voter's identification card, he must send a card or letter, showing former address, new address and signature to County Clerk Woodard, at the courthouse.

Further information concerning registration may be obtained from the county clerk or any of the registrars listed above.

Public School Opens At 1 P.M. On Aug. 31

The Mokena public school will open on Monday, Aug. 31 at 1 p.m. Bus routes will begin at 12 and students will be in school from 1 to 2 p.m. Bus routes and stops will be the same as last year for the first week.

New students in the district should register at the earliest possible date at the Willow Crest school office, Supt. James Ennis emphasized.

The school office is open this summer and parents are asked to pay fees early and thus avoid long lines of waiting the first day of school. Book rental will be $8.50 per student. Milk will be $.20 per student for the year and may also be paid during the remaining weeks or on the first day of school. Transportation will be furnished at a nominal fee if students live far enough to need it. Bus fees are as follows: One pupil, $4; two pupils in same family, $5 and three or more in family, $6. Pupils shall be encouraged to walk to school if they live a reasonably safe distance.

The state law requires that all first and fifth grade pupils have their physical and dental examinations completed by the first day of school or not be allowed to attend. This rule will be enforced, it was stated.

The Willow Crest school office will be open daily, Monday thru Friday, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. for the remainder of the summer.

azines available to them were printed in Red China and very anti-American. The American magazines available were bought up by communists before the people could buy them.) He received 3000 requests, which he could not begin to fill, so he asked for viewers of the Art Linkletter program who had magazines they would send, to write to him and he would forward a request. Miss Rukjatini made one of these requests, which Mrs. Bean wrote in for.

Since they have corresponded, this girl is very anxious to come to this country. Mrs. Bean thinks it is very important that she come and learn more about our country as the communists are working very hard to get Indonesia. She quoted from an article in the Readers Digest, "If the Communists can get Indonesia, all Asia will go Communist."

Any donations will be used to create a fund to bring Miss Rukjatini to this country, according to Mr. and Mrs. Bean.

$10 Million Gift For Art Center At U. Of I.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Krannert of Indianapolis have made a major gift to the University of Illinois Foundation to create a Center for the Performing Arts at Urbana. President David D. Henry has announced.

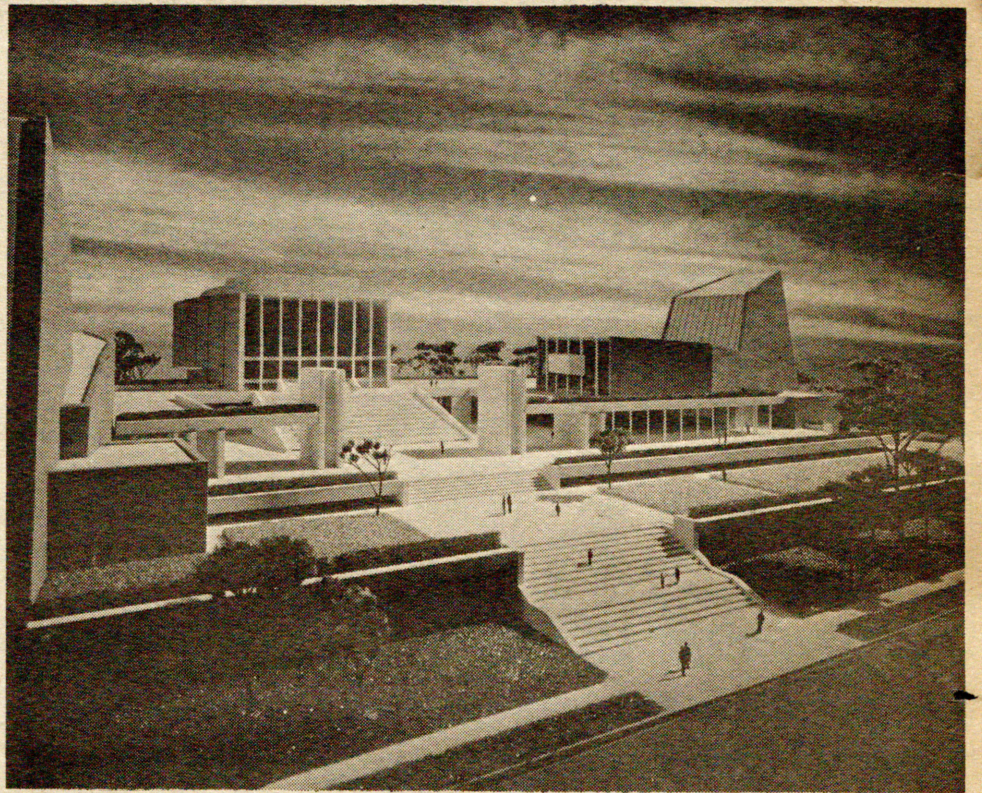

The Center, which will stand on a two-block, man-made rise of ground on east campus, will cost $14,325,000, with $10 million coming from gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Krannert will provide the major gift, and the Center will be known as the Krannert Center for the Performing Arts. Mr. Krannert, an alumnus of the University and a member of the Foundation, is Chairman of the Board of Inland Container Corporation, with headquarters in Indianapolis, Indiana.

The Center, an educational facility for students, in music, theatre, band and dance, which currently enrolls 700, will consist of four separate theatres, connected by carefully planned functional areas and related by architectural design.

A music auditorium seating 2,200 will provide an impressive area for concerts by faculty, students and visiting artists. A music theatre will seat 1,000; a drama theatre 700; and an experimental theatre 250. In addition, an outside area seating 1,000 will be made possible by the arrangement of the buildings.

Underneath will be two floors of classrooms, practice rooms, rehearsal areas, offices, dressing rooms, workshops and parking for 800 cars. It is expected to be completed during the

President Henry called the Center a "new dimension" and said it will enable the University "to fulfill its potential in music, drama, dance and related arts."

"Thru its reach into the hearts and minds of uncoun- ted thousands of listeners, performers, and learners for decades to come," said

President Henry, "the program of the Center will have an impact of striking significance upon American life."

It will bring together work now widely scattered over the campus. For instance, in music alone the work is carried on in 10 different areas, several of them converted residences.

Architect is Max Abramovitz, an alumnus of the university, whose firm, Harrison and Abramovitz of New York, has designed nationally known buildings, including the new Lincoln Center Philharmonic Hall and the United Nations Building in New York, the Interfaith Center and Rose Art Museum at Brandeis University, the Law School and Amsterdam Plaza at Columbia University, and the Assembly Hall on the University of Illinois campus.

Financing of the Center for the Performing Arts will require $4,325,000 in addition to the gifts. Already available in University appropriations is $630,000, and the remainder will be requested from the State as part of the capital funds required for 1965-67. This money will be used for land purchases and for construction of the classrooms and other areas underneath the theaters.

Mr. Krannert is a native of Chicago, attended Richard T. Crane high school there, and earned a B.S. in mechanical engineering in 1912 at U. of I. He founded Inland Container Corp. in 1925, and the firm is now the third largest manufacturer of corrugated fibre shipping containers in the world.

Mr. and Mrs. Krannert's philanthropic activities have been extensive, principally in the fields of education, youth activities, research and the arts. Mr. and Mrs. Krannert were principal contributors to Krannert Art Museum on the Urbana campus.

"Lord knows where I'd be today without her, probably president of the company."

Broken Train Line Blocks 3 Mokena Rail Crossings

Three grade crossings at Mokena--School House road, Mokena st., and Wolf road--were blocked for 40 minutes on Wednesday afternoon of last week when a broken train line brought the Gold Streak Freight to an emergency stop. Scores of motorists were held up at the crossings.

A train line, it was explained, carries the air. The break caused loss of air which in turn brought the train to a halt. It was reported that the packing was blown out of a coupling.

The car with the damaged coupling was set out on a siding, with another to serve as an anchor--according to safety rules. The incident occurred about 1 o'clock.

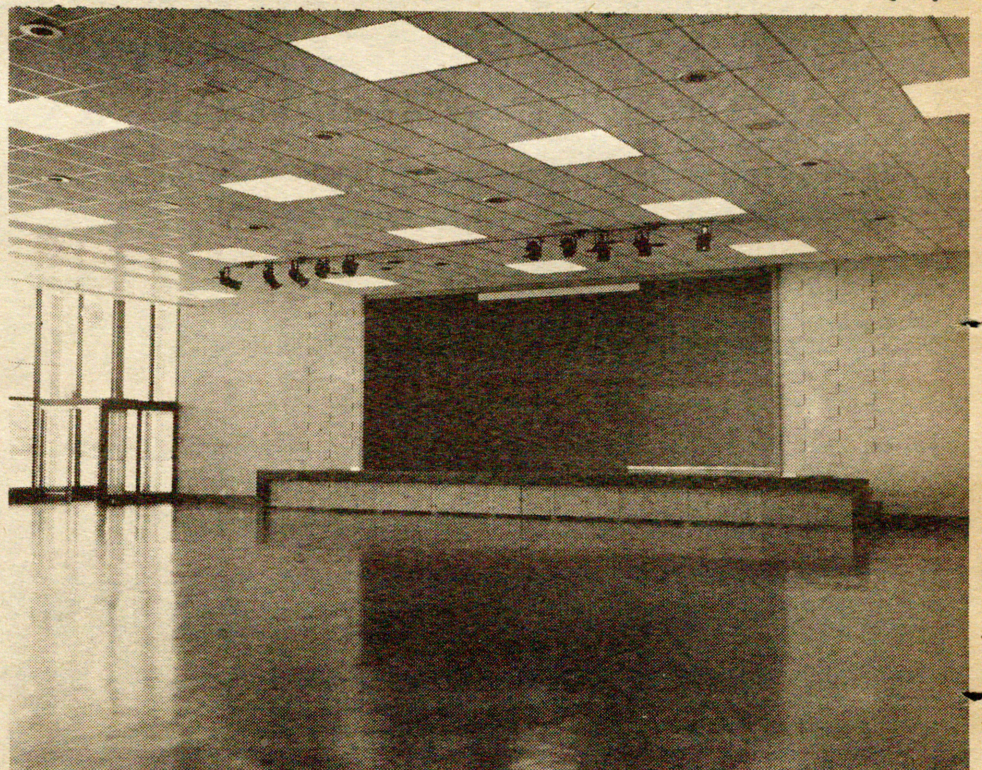

Some motorists crossed the tracks on Hamilton street but this could have been dangerous, it was pointed out. Sometimes when a train is unable to proceed, it was explained, other trains may be run around it. Persons using the Hamilton st. crossing could have seen trains coming from the west but couldn't have seen a train heading west on the east bound mainline.

QUIET NOW -- This combination hallway and enclosed walkway stretching the full length of A. A. Stagg High School at 111th and Roberts Road will soon be filled with students. Projected enrollment for this fall is 280 freshmen, with a new class being added each year until all four years are completed. The walkways will permit students to go from the academic wing to the fine and applied art wing without going outside.

NEW LIBRARY -- Inside the sunken reading area in the Stagg High library, an early summer reader takes time out to read one of the 2,600 volumes being shelved for students this fall. The library will meet the stringent requirements of the American Library Association.

COMMONS -- Stretching gleaming and empty, the commons room waits for furniture and students to fill its expanse. The area, located in the center part of the Stagg High complex, will be used for lunches, plays, and a general meeting room.
